

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: February 10, 2010
FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT:

John Peters
630.682.4700
jpeters@rjn.com

RJN Group, Inc. Hires New Project Manager

Wheaton, IL (February 10, 2010) – RJN Group, Inc. (RJN) is pleased to announce that Terry L. Tecklenburg has recently joined the firm as a Project Manager in RJN's St. Louis, Missouri office. His duties will include business development for environmental projects in Missouri and Illinois and project management of combined and separate sewer infiltration/inflow investigations. Mr. Tecklenburg earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Missouri at Columbia. He brings over 20 years of environmental engineering experience to the firm, including 10 years working as an Environmental Specialist at a major automobile manufacturer in St. Louis. Mr. Tecklenburg is a member of Certified Hazardous Material Managers and the Air and Waste Management Association.

RJN provides engineering consulting services for its clients and their facilities. The firm's offerings include the study, design, and construction management of wastewater, water, stormwater, roadways, and bridges. GIS and asset management services are also offered by the firm. RJN, established in 1975, is headquartered in Wheaton, Illinois, with offices nationwide.